FLAVOR PAPER

Wallpaper designers Boone Speed and Jon Sherman scoured New York to find beautifully decayed walls that captured the city's age, soul, and character. The idea was to bring the gorgeous grime to pristine spaces and instantly add some attitude to the walls. Brooklyn Bridge Wall is a photograph of a heavily used underpass in DUMBO bravely captured across several lanes of traffic.

Mostly a melange of greys and beige tones, the base colors get a bit of pop from rusty areas, a bright red tag by FADE, and a blue S tag. When printed on our durable plaster vinyl substrate, the content works in perfectly rough harmony with the texture.

Flavor Paper founder and creative director Jon Sherman is a self-trained artist and designer whose work has been featured in numerous museums, books, and projects. Boone Speed is a legendary rock climber and award-winning photographer based in Utah. Boone has worked with Jon to create and execute numerous distinctive wallpaper designs for Flavor Paper since 2009.

Digitally printed to order in the USA.
