LIL' DRUZY

by Boone Speed, Jon Sherman

While we are confident that Lil' Druzy is going to be the name of the next big hip-hop artist, the origin will always be this incredibly deep and dynamic mural of crystal formations. Druzy is a quartz formed from micro-crystalline facets millions of years ago. Photographer Boone Speed and Flavor Paper founder and creative director Jon Sherman created a print that is sexy, mystical, and cave-like with the trending yet timeless natural palette of peach, cream, gold, dark green and black. The glittery effects come courtesy of our Bada Bling material which is a near exact approximation of the true druzy size and shimmer. Trust us, Lil' Druzy bringing that fire to your walls! The image is a non-repeating mural and is scaled and cropped based on the provided wall dimensions.
