MOTLEY HUE

by Jon Sherman

While most watercolors intend to explore the fluidity of the medium, Motley Hue dives a little deeper, tuning into the vigorous, abstract and boomin' beat of Heavy Metal music to inform its flow, too. Why? Well, many of our designs are grounded in rhythms and rhymes...and Flavor founder / creative director / designer, Jon Sherman, happened to hear a headbanger while working on this so, ta-da! The large-scale mural – which was hand painted and then digitized – artfully distills (and amplifies) the various dramatic currents and sensory shifts experienced while immersed in liquid and lyrics, resulting in a stone-like, melodic wash of depth, texture and intrigue.

The image is a non-repeating mural and is scaled and cropped based on the provided wall dimensions.
